Throng of 8,000 Thrilled by Fine Fireworks Display at River Front Last Night

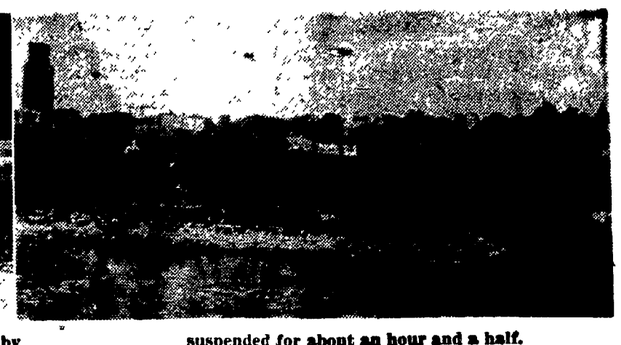

The above reproductions of photographs taken on the Galena Avenue bridge last night shows a part of the 8,000 spectators who witnessed the fireworks on the river front. It was one of the finest displays of fireworks ever seen in Dixon.

Because of the tremendous crowds drawn to the river front by the display, automobile traffic on Galena Ave., over the bridge was suspended for about an hour and a half.

Dixon's July '4th' Celebration Biggest, Sanest in History

Fireworks In Evening Ends Day

By BRYN GRIFFITHS
(Telegraph City Editor)

Dixon's Fourth of July celebration has come and gone.

But it won't be forgotten in a long, long time.

From early Monday morning, when cars streamed into Lowell park for the boat races, surf-board riding and other water activities, until late at night when the last fireworks display was set off on the north river bank, it was a gala day. Gala, because of the fun everyone had, and gala, because it was truly a "safe and sane" Fourth in every respect.

Really Safe, Really Sane

Considering the thousands upon thousands who attended the celebration at Lowell park and the river front, it was undoubtedly one of the safest and most sane July Fourth celebrations ever held in Dixon. Casualties were at a minimum. Fun was at a maximum.

Despite the intense heat, the crowds were good natured. There was little irritation—even the motorists who inched forward, bumper to bumper into and out of Lowell park didn't seem to mind. And at the fireworks display last night, Dixonites and their hundreds upon hundreds of visitors from outlying towns semed eager that their neighbors get a chance to see the pyrotechnics from points of 'vantage.

It was a good-natured throng from start to finish.

Lowell Park Sets Record

Lowell Park officials this morning revealed that a total of 2,617 automobiles entered the area Sunday and Monday. They also estimate that there were approximately five passengers to

Maytown Man Drowns in Pool; Recover Body

Amboy—(Special)—A coroner's jury convening in the Mihm funeral home here this morning, returned a verdict of "accidental drowning" in the death of Charles Stewart, 22, May township farm youth, whose body was recovered from the E. A. Meyer gravel pit pool six miles southwest of here Monday. The pit is located in Marion township.

The jury empanelled by Lee County Coroner Robert Preston, Dixon, heard the testimony from two of Stewart's companions, Harold and John Daniels, who told of how Stewart, a non-swimmer, plunged into the chilling water about 6:20 p. m. and subsequently disappeared from their view.

Recovered Last Night

Stewart's body was recovered three hours later by Lee County Sheriff Gilbert Finch, Dixon, aided by Jack Eckburg, Harold Smith and M. E. Lane, all of Amboy.

The Daniel brothers said that they had just returned from Princeton with Stewart and that the victim drove by the pool, disrobed and dived in. His body was found in water estimated to be 12 to 15 feet in depth.

Graduate of ATHS

Stewart, a graduate of Amboy high school in 1945, was an athlete and active in agricultural work while in school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, with whom he made his home. He was unmarried.

Miss Phyllis Shippert, 26, Rt. 2, of Franklin Grove, sustained the loss of three toes on the right foot, as the result of a motorcycle accident on Ravine Ave., last night about 7:00 p. m.

She was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by Donald Klosterman, 25, 401 South Galena Ave., when the vehicle skidded on loose gravel at the bottom of a Ravine Ave. hill, and turned over. Both Klosterman and Miss Shippert were tossed off the motorcycle.

Police Officers Robert McCoy and Raymond Olson took Miss Shippert to KSB hospital. An examination at the hospital, disclosed that two toes on the right foot were severed. The third toe was so seriously injured that it was amputated.

Mrs. Lepley informed the Telegraph this noon that she was not seriously injured.

Robert Rutherford Pays $15 Fine For Being 'Disorderly'

Part of the decree stipulation is that Dr. Pappenhouse will pay $2,500 to his former wife's mother, for support of Maureen, the ex-wife, who is confined to an institution at Denver, Colo.

A Cool Crowning

Probably the coolest of all beauty queens crowned over the sweltering 4th of July week-end was "Miss Health—1949" who was dumped into this effervescent mineral bath immediately after her selection in Sharon Springs, New York. Lucille Papp, Maiden, N. C., is the cool queen. Runner-up, Paulette Hendrix, Savannah, Ga., assists Miss Papp.

Romeo's Bail Is Reduced to $30,000; He Still Sits

Chicago, July 5—(AP)—Bond for Sigmund Engel was cut today from $50,000 to $30,000—still too high for the sweet talking woman swindler to get out of jail.

Harry J. Busch, the 73-year-old confidence man's attorney, told the court the $30,000 figure "is almost as bad as $50,000." He said Engel would not be able to make bail.

Engel is under indictment, charged with taking $8,700 from Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old Chicago widow.

Since his arrest in a widow-baited police trap he has boasted that with his ear kissing technique and other winning ways he's bilked women out of millions.

In criminal court today Engel did not look his usual dapper self. He sat silent. He wore the same flannel suit, the same dirty shirt and the same tie he has worn since his arrest June 24.

His attorney entered an oral motion complaining Engel was being deprived of his rights. He said police have not let him have his personal belongings, including laundry.

Chiang Appeals for U. S. Aid in Combatting Reds

New York, July 5—(AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek appealed for United States aid in combatting the spread of communism in China, in an interview reported today by Clyde Farnsworth, Scripps-Howard staff writer.

The interview was obtained at Taipeh, Formosa, with the 62-year-old Generalissimo.

Chiang retired from the presidency of China last January but kept his leadership of the Kuomintang party.

Asked what help China requires, he said:

"The first step, it seems to me, is for the United States to reactivate its policy of giving moral support to the Chinese government in its fight against communism. Nor by her assumption of world leadership in the fight against communism will the United States exclude China from the scope of her aid."

Rock Falls Quartet Pays for Drunkenness

Four Rock Falls residents involved in an automobile accident in Dixon last night were fined $10 and costs each, by Police Magistrate Albert N. Kennedy, this morning, on charges of intoxication.

The quartet, Anderson Weaver, Vince Bell, Mrs. Betty Ball and Margaret Covell, all of Rock Falls were arrested at 7:55 p. m., last night by Police Officers Olson and Hink, at Boyd St., and Galena Ave.

Prior to their arrest, according to reports, their car struck a tree stump in the alley back of a confectionary store, 114 North Galena Ave.

Vince Bell, one of the occupants was taken to KSB hospital where he was given chest X-rays, and was examined by Dr. W. L. Stitzel. The X-rays indicated no broken bones, or other serious injuries, police records show. Bell was not admitted to the hospital.

Their car was not badly damaged, as near as can be determined.

Damage Is Slight In Auto Accidents

Three automobiles were involved in an accident on the Peoria Ave., bridge at 9:00 p. m. last night.

Roscoe Jacob, 25, 403 Ada St., Sterling, Elizabeth Metzler, 55, Rt. 1, Dixon, and M. J. Cornelius, 59, 705 Park place, Sterling, were the drivers of the three automobiles.

The trunk and rear door were sprung on Jacob's car, and the grill was damaged on the auto M. J. Cornelius was driving. None of the drivers or occupants of the cars were injured.

In a two-car accident at Chicago Ave., and Alternate 30, Charles M. Emmert, 1222 Chestnut., and David Henley, 1104 Sixth St., were the drivers. There was very little damage to either vehicle.

Showers MAY Strike Dixon, Bureau Says

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures headed for the 90's again as no break in the summer season's hottest weather appeared for areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

It was the sixth day of sweltering heat for much of the midwest. It also was a continuation of the oppressive weather during the Fourth of July weekend for two-thirds of the country. An unknown number of persons suffered heat prostration.

Few Thundershowers

A few scattered thundershowers over parts of the heat belt brought temporary relief. But the drought continued in the nation's northeastern states and damage to farm crops, already estimated at more than $50,000,000, mounted. Some parts of the New England states, New York and New Jersey have had no substantial rain for seven weeks.

Holiday crowds sought relief from the searing heat over the weekend at beaches, parks and vacation lands. But it was back to work today under a boiling sun for the millions of holiday-goers.

New York City sizzled yesterday in 97 degree temperature, the warmest day of the summer, but a violent wind and rain storm sent the mercury tumbling 13 degrees. The storm, bringing little rain to the parched metropolitan area, caused at least six deaths and heavy damage to property, including boats and planes.

Showers Here? Maybe

Some rain also brought a cooling off to parts of northern Wisconsin, northern Minnesota and northern Michigan today. There was a promise of some showers may hit northern Illinois and bring relief. Chicago's 98 yesterday was the fifth straight day of above 90 readings and a high of 94 was forecast today.

Above 90 marks were general yesterday throughout most of the central, eastern and southern states and in many parts of the mountain states. The coolest areas were near the Canadian border and in parts of the Pacific coast. But Blythe, Calif., in the desert, reported the country's top mark, 109.

Thirteen Are Killed In Illinois

By The Associated Press

A record accidental death toll for the Fourth of July marked the nation's observance of this year's extended Independence Day holiday.

Latest figures showed 663 killed in violent accidents.

The grim report on the country's celebration of the three-day holiday was: Traffic fatalities, 289; drownings, 240; violent deaths from miscellaneous causes, 134. The country-wide survey covered violent deaths from 6 p. m. local time Friday to midnight Monday.

Highest Toll Ever

The 1949 toll was the highest ever recorded for any Fourth of July. The previous record of accidental deaths on the Independence Day holiday was 628 in the three-day period in 1941. This year's mark compared with 571 deaths reported over a three-day period in 1948.

Sweltering weather across the nation brought an outpouring of millions onto the highways headed for vacation lands and resorts. The traffic toll, as generall expected, was the leader. The National Safety Council had estimated 290 persons would lose their lives in traffic mishaps over the holiday.

At least 13 persons were killed in traffic accidents in Illinois during the long holiday week-end.

The traffic mishap victims were:

Youth Spirited Away from Mob Following Two Murders

Salyersville, Ky., June 5—(AP)—A 19-year-old youth being held in the slaying of a young farmer and his wife near here Sunday has been taken to a jail in another city, Police Chief Glenn Prater disclosed today.

Prater identified the youth as Newby Whitt, of the Bear Branch district six miles west of here, where the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams were found Sunday morning.

Williams, 27, was slain in his mountain home, his wife, Wannie, 24, with her seven-month-old baby in her arms, was shot down as she tried to escape. The baby suffered wounds from several shotgun pellets, but was not seriously hurt.

Prater said "feeling is pretty high" against Whitt, adding:

"A lot of people would like to get their hands on him."

The officer declined to disclose where Whitt was being held. No charge has been placed against him.

The youth, taken into custody several hours after the double slaying, was questioned by Commonwealth's Attorney Earl R. Cooper yesterday.

The attorney said Whitt admitted being in the woods about the time of the slaying, and having a shotgun, but that he refused to tell what he did with the weapon except to say that he "threw it away."

Top of Building Thunders Down on Group, Kills Four

Pittsburgh, July 5—(AP)—The top of a building thundered down on a group of pedestrians out for a stroll on the city's northside Federal street last night. The barrage of bricks, mortar and heavy neon signs killed four and injured eight.

Four of the injured were listed as "critical" at Allegheny General hospital.

"It was a terrifying thing," said Joe Deveny, 32, who suffered a compound fractured leg. "I looked up and saw those two big signs coming at me. Then the whole building seemed to come down."

The dead were T. J. McGee, 60, a retired Pennsylvania railroad worker; Charles Schmide, 29, Donald Hanlon, 22, and Mrs. Viola Dickson, 39.

Critically hurt were John McDonough, 27, broken back; Rose Grandee, 22, fractured pelvis, leg and hip; Forest McAllister, 40, fractured skull; and David Stevens 9, arm and leg fractures.

Assistant Fire Chief Michael McDermott said the weight of neon signs advertising two cafes housed in the one-story building apparently caused the brick parapet to give way.

The accident occurred shortly before 10 p.m. in view of thousands of persons seeking relief from the intense 90-degree heat.

Manhattan Snapshots by the Guy Who Took Them!

By HAL BOYLE

New York, July 5—(AP)—Manhattan snapshots:

Everybody lives by his own brand of logic, and one kind won't necessarily suit another.

There is a waitress in a beanery here who should be in her heyday—if life really began at 40.

She lives entirely on the tips from patrons, and collects her wages from the boss only once every four years. The last time she asked him for her money he forked over $600.

When a patron inquired why she let her wages pile up for four years, the mousy little plate slinger said:

"Well, when you go out for an evening—you want to be able to hold up your own end."

The lady wasn't joking either.

My favorite New Yorker is George ("The Real") McCoy, the best armored man I know against misfortune.

Hard luck can't even dent—let alone break—this hack man's Falstaff. George, now in his middle years, was a pioneer sidewalk radio interviewer. He served as an army sergeant overseas, and he and his microphone gave belly laughs to scores of thousands of homesick troops on leave in Algiers and Naples.

Today this chunky, red-faced Irishman probably knows as many people around town as Jim Farley. The radio spots have been fewer in recent years, and George beats a living out of broadway by driving a cab.

"Every day is a new day to me," he says. "Most people want to live and let live. I want to live and ad lib."

And in many a mid-town bistro he's more widely quoted than Shakespeare, Walter Lippmann—or Milton Berle. George dislikes stuffed shirts more than anything in the world, and enjoys puncturing them.

"A stuffed shirt," he says, "is just a public bandage on a private intolerance—or an ulcer that needs curing."

Recently George started driving his hack on Sundays because he figured he could save $30.

How He Figures

"I really take in only $10," he says. "But if I didn't work, I'd spend $10—so that makes $20. On the other hand, if I didn't work, I'd have to borrow the $10 I'd spend—so, altogether, I'm really savin' $30."

Currently "the real McCoy" is worried over the way people in Manhattan are corrupting the pigeons.

"More pigeons getting run over every day," he says sadly, "and that's a shame. They have seen so many people jaywalking that they won't get out of the way of cars anymore. They're confused—they think they're pedestrians, too."

It-takes-so-little-to-make-some-folks-happy note:

There is a middle-aged lady who lives in Greenwich village and yearns to be an opera singer. She is taking lessons from a merry old rascal whose only training as a voice teacher is the years he spent tuning pianos.

Recently a friend who visited her in the small practice room she rents found her weeping with joy.

"The maestro at last told me I had hit one perfect note," sighed the dear lady.

Then she began strumming her own accompaniment on the piano, and started singing. Every few moments she would pause, uncork a small bottle, sniff from it vigorously, then quickly recork it again.

"What are you doing?" asked the amazed friend.

"Oh, the maestro told me all the best voices were trained in Italy," she said. "Since I can't afford to go there, he is importing Italian air for me in these bottles. It helps me immensely."

"Why do you keep putting the cork back in?"

"The Maestro warned I must use the air sparingly," said the lady complacently. "It's expensive to import. I pay him $1.50 a week for each bottle."

Queen of Buxenwald Will Be Re-Arrested

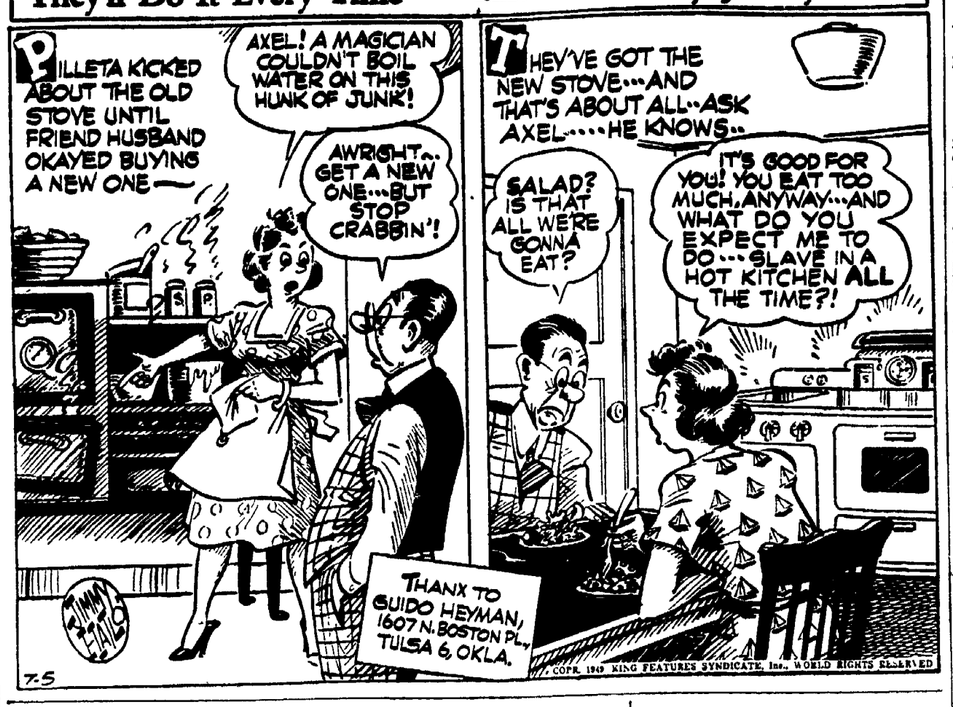

Bamberg, Germany, July 2—(AP)—German police will arrest Ilsa Koch, one-time "Queen of Buchenwald," as soon as American authorities release her, German officials said today.

Dr. Johann Ilkow, German state prosecutor, said new charges against Frau Koch will be completed before she is released Oct 18 from the Landsbuerg prison where American-convicted war criminals are kept.

He said she will be arrested immediately on release for a quick trial in a German court on charges of maltreating German concentration camp inmates.

Plain Talk About
TELEPHONE TAXES

Federal excise taxes are increasing your telephone bill—in some cases as much as 25%. There is a flat 15% Federal tax on local service. On long distance service where the charge is 25c or over, the tax is 25%. Other forms of telephone service are taxed from 8 to 25%. This tax is imposed directly upon you as a telephone user. Your telephone company, at its own expense, acts as a tax collector.

These excise taxes, levied directly upon you as a user, are in addition to the corporation income taxes which the company pays to the government. These taxes must be included in the company's cost of business and must, therefore, act to increase your telephone bill as a sort of hidden sales tax.

Telephone service is generally regarded as a necessity. Yet the 25% tax on long distance and other service is higher than the 20% luxury tax for jewelry and furs.

We are sure your Senators and Representatives in Congress would welcome your views as a taxpayer and citizen in helping them to guide future action on this unusual peacetime tax on a necessity.

Alabama Gives Ku Klux Klan a Kick; Let's Hope the South Follows Suit!

Gov. James E. Folsom and his Alabama legislature deserve to be commended for their speedy, forthright response to the ugly challenge of white-robed terror in their state.

Newly placed on Alabama's statute books is a law that bans the wearing of masks, hoods or robes. The penalty for violation is a $500 fine or one year in jail.

Alabama thus becomes the first state in the South to strike a real blow at the resurging Ku Klux Klan, which most southern authorities blame for the rising tide of violence in the region.

There is some talk that Alabama now may go a step farther and revoke the Klan's state charter, thus making it an outlaw organization. All decent American citizens must hope this goal is also achieved.

More than that, they must wish that a whole procession of states will follow Alabama's lead. Nothing would be more gratifying than to see the South rid itself of these night-riding hoodlums without interference from outside.

It seems incredible that we should have to be decrying such primitive violence in a 1949 America. In fact, were we not so well aware of the tragic results of this practice, we probably would be tempted to laugh heartily at the absurdly silly business of grown men running around in flapping white garments.

But, stripped of their bedsheets, these latter-day terrorists can be seen for what they are: Nazi-style bully boys with an even bigger streak of cowardice, if that is possible.

Alabama has had the fundamental good sense to unfrock these spineless bullies permanently.

There is evidence, too, that it is earnestly determined to find among them those who were responsible for the recent floggings and other outrages in the Birmingham area. A county grand jury already has returned a dozen or more indictments.

Those various state and local moves to stamp out hooded violence have not kept Congress from launching its own inquiry into the outbreaks. A house judiciary sub-committee is looking into them.

No harm can come from a further airing of the facts so that all Americans can understand the menace for what it is. But congress ought to do nothing to discourage the excellent beginning Alabama has made toward crushing this particular lawlessness.

It should allow state authorities a chance to follow through. And permit a little time for us to see whether Alabama's behavior may not prove contagious to its neighbors.

Info on New Point System

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

A recent visitor at my office was H. V. Dettman, a machinery manufacturer of Minneapolis, Minn. Dettman has developed a point count system of bidding all his own.

He has not put it into print as yet, but some of the points in his system are as follows: He counts an ace 5, a king 4, a queen 3 and a jack 2. To open the bidding you must have 18 points in face cards. In supporting your partner, if you have five or more trumps, you can count a void suit 12, a singleton 7 or a doubleton 3. However, you cannot count more than one of them unless you have seven trumps, in which case you can count two of those groups.

Dettman says that 36 points are required for game at no trump and 40 at a suit bid. In other words, you divide his count by four to determine the number of tricks you have. To support your partner, you must have at least 12 points.

South	West	North	East

4 N. T.	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

He gave me today's hand and explained the bidding in accordance with his point count. The one-spade bid shows a minimum of 18 points in face cards. (This hand actually has a count of 22.) The three-diamond bid by North should show a count of 18. (The actual count is only 17.) The bid of three hearts by South does not show any increase in count.

In supporting partner to four hearts, North can add 7 points for his singleton, thus giving himself a count of 24. South, who has not shown a count of more than 18, now counts 7 points for his singleton, which is enough to make a slam. He employs the Blackwood convention at this point, and North's response of five clubs shows no aces. Knowing he is off one ace, South stops at six hearts.

He Might as Well Throw Away the Razor

By
Westbrook Pegler

Poor fellow. Even as you and I, the weather seems to have worn him down to a nubbin.

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New York, July 5.—I have decided to convey to whomsoever and the heirs, legatees and assigns thereof, henceforth forever, all my right, title and interest in and to that uncertain lot, plot and/or parcel of this earth commonly known as away from it all and more particularly, but not exclusively, as dun huntin', mortgage manor, belly acres, weluvit and/or corruptions, contractions and/or perversions of the first names of wives and husbands, such as, but not exclusively, Marbill, Heljak and Alken.

Westbrook Pegler

I hereby waive, relinquish and abandon without consideration, price or cost, all my right, if any, to the distant musical clatter and whirr of the mower in the meadow which, ere sundown, will drop into a chuckhole and bust that thing that hitches onto the you-know and go out of action for ten days while Eddie, the genius at the garage in the center, sends to Bridgeport, Albany and, finally, Detroit, to replace at a cost of 78.82 plus express a casting that got broke and that sage and salty tavern toss-pot, my, save the mark! farmer, puts in his time at $200 a month, plus board, keep and a car for his social duties, 'tending bar at the annual bazaar and carnival of Phoenix Hose Co. No. 1, of the Shumac Center Fire department.

He's Getting Bad

As of this hour, I renounce my natural and hereditary right to the gossamer haze upon the distant hills and the still miasma rising from the soil and grass in ferment. I yield the still country air of summer whether in the coy, mysterious depth of Leafbound grove, impenetrable by breeze and like unto a lethal chamber, or in silent, deadly lee of Ridge 'or Rolling hill.

I quit absolutely now forever and without recourse such right as I may have to the poetic pleasures of the old swimmin' hole beneath the scrub-apple where Sargossa lies and cattails foul the slimy banks and lifeless sheathes of reptiles float among the reeds and snapping turtles, upon information and belief, are.

Big Heurted, Too

In a mood of generosity, I commit unto my fellow man my portion of the down-apples, warted and brown, and the cider thereof and the gripes and ills therefrom and the woody blue grapes grown wild amid tre poison ivy on wall and fence and the jelly thereof, if such there be, and the broccoli and radishes and carrots and roastin' ears and mint from by the spring.

To a new welcome generation of suckers I present, a wiser, poorer but, on the whole, happier sucker now that is over, my compliments and commiserations for the day when they will have learned the hard and costly way the lessons that experience, that malevolent hag, taught me. The floors will swell and the only man to take them up and lay them flat will be Mr. Rookiu, who is moody and expensive, to be sure, not liking city people who crowd upon his precious solitude, and quaint in a dry, Bucolic way but no dumb rustic, you will find, when you get his bill. If you want the job really done right, now, you will get Mr. Rookiu and his fine boy, Steve, who learned his trade tacking together barracks n the war at $25 a day, straight time, for Mr. Rookiu is also tax assessor and justice of the peace and his brother, Pete, is marshal and it does no harm to patronize those who know the value of friendship and reciprocity in human relations.

Attentin Plumber

You will want to be on terms with Mr. Fleece, the plumber and so though all be merry as a marriage bell today, summer is the time to take out the washers of the faucets and take up the bathroom floor and lay the plumbing right where that crook, Joe Blow, the dirty, fly-by-night, laid it slanting wrong, thus courting freezing and disaster when winter comes. Summer is the time to fix the washers and the pipes when Mr. Fleece is not too pressed with work and his daughter, by the way, sells decorative shrubs and her husband is a good man to know, being an electrician, rates high but workmanship unexcelled.

I believe I have done my bit as a latter-day pioneer in the hither frontier and while I may never know the sudden, startling thrill of flushing a red deer on Lexington or Fifth, the truth is that I knew that thrill no more than half a dozen times a season, usually in winter, with the chains on and the rear wheels whipping and snarling toward chasms in a way to mitigate the joy.

Have 'Them Deers'

Listen. Listen to me! Do you like deers? Do you like those things that go bobbity-bob two jumps, three jumps in sight and vanish into the thicket, twice, three times, half a dozen times a year? Then I give them to you. You can have them deers and when I get so that I have just got to see some deers or bust, I will go up to Central park, to the Deer department and lean on the fence and ogle them in comfort and warmth and at no cost or expense whatever.

Rhinoceroses, too. I never saw any rhinoceroses up there away from it all nor any aoudads or ptarmigans or ibises or ibexes. Farhands, yes. Drunk and taking squeeze on every packet of nasturium seed or ton of hog feed. Contractors, yes. That driveway never was laid right in the first place and of course I kin patch it up temporarily, but if you want the job done right—I listen, I can get broccoli, the best broccoli in the country, at Pietro's or Pierre s or any one of a dozen places within a block and with hollandaise, too. Does your garden patch give broccoli with hollandaise? or creamed spinach? Or does your spring give mint jelly?

I love you my fellow-man. I am infatuated with you. I want you to be happy. I want you to enjoy the spiritual beauty of life away from it all and so I convey and assign to whomsoever, to you soever, your heirs, legatees and assigns my undivided share and portion.

Don't worry about me. The air-conditioning is working, the room-service is fine and I never have to mow the rug.

Gable and Tracy Form Best Of Hollywood's Pal Teams

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood—(NEA) — One of the most remarkable friendships in Hollywood—one that has become the source of much good-natured kidding—exists between Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy.

Since they first were introduced 20 years ago, their paths have crossed and re-crossed.

Latest chapter in the Gable-Tracy "feud" was written recently on a film set. It was Gable's birthday and Tracy was among the first visitors to arrive. Gable was waiting for him.

"Looky here, Spence," he chortled, "and admit defeat."

Gable pointed to a framed newspaper clipping. It was a review from a Shanghai newspaper a number of years back and it proclaimed "Parnell" as "the best picture of the year."

Beneath the review was scrawled in oversized letters, "50 Million Chinese Can't Be Wrong."

"Parnell," a picture that Gable remembers with reluctance, has provided Tracy with fodder for his continual ribbing of the man he calls "The King."

But Tracy wasn't to be talked out of his pet jibe so easily. After scornfully viewing the clipping, he responded slowly:

"Well, King, now I know where you belong—in China!"

CONSTANT KIDDING

That's the way the kidding has gone between these two ever since they became stars on the same studio lot. They never miss a chance to razz each other, yet each is the other's stoutest booster—when the other isn't around.

They first met 20 years ago. Gable had given up Hollywood because his work as an extra failed to keep him eating regularly. He landed a role in a play being tried out in Springfield. But the role wasn't to his liking and he gave his notice, agreeing to continue with the company until a substitute could be found.

When the substitute was found it was Tracy.

A year later they were playing adjacent theaters in New York. Gable was with Alice Brady in "Love, Honor and Betray." Tracy was playing Killer Mears in "The Last Mile."

One day Gable had an offer to play Killer Mears in a Los Angeles company of "The Last Mile." The wire read: "See the play and catch the first train west."

Gable saw Spence in the play, took the first train west and patterned his characterization of Mears on Tracy's. A short time later Gable made his film debut at M-G-M. Five years later Tracy joined Gable on the M-G-M payroll.

They were together but little until both were starred in "San Francisco." Then, a mutual worry that ultimately proved needless, made them confidants and pals. Tough-guy Tracy was worried about playing a priest. Gable was worried about playing an atheist.

A second picture together, "Test Pilot," began their now-noted ribbing of each other. During its filming, Gable was named king of the movies and Tracy arranged a suitable ceremony. The title he gave Gable that day, as he presented him with a cardboard crown, has stuck.

THE EASY WAY

Gable had a chance to kid back a short time later when Tracy won his second Oscar. Visiting Tracy, he innocently inquired if the rumor were true that, to save bother, they had just counted the previous year's votes over again.

Their respect for one another was heightened, however, when they dove side by side into mud, slammed each other all over a sound stage in a fight scene and were drenched in oil for scenes in "Boom Town."

But Tracy always complained he was getting the worst of it. "In between the rough stuff, I had to sit around while the King played love scenes with Hedy Lamarr."

Recently Gable visited Tracy on the set of "Malaya." He found Spence plodding through a dense jungle growth, covered with perspiration and dirt. Gable tilted back in a comfortable chair on the sidelines and laughted until there were tears in his eyes.

"That's all right," shouted Tracy. "This time I get the girl."

Gable gave him that Gable look and said:

"That's just because I'm not in the picture."

Newspaperman Dies Just as He Predicted

San Diego, July 5 — (AP) — Forrest Warren met death unafraid, just as he said six weeks ago he would.

The 72-year-old newspaperman, columnist for the San Diego Daily Journal "just went to sleep" at 5 a. m. yesterday at his home.

Knowing he was dying of cancer, Warren told his readers about his approaching death in his column of May 17. He used the column as an appeal for the Cancer Fund Research program. The Journal said the appeal had brought in $35,000 to date.

"His was as nearly a complete victory over death as any person I've ever known," said the Rev. Frank Linder of the First Methodist church. "He was utterly reconciled."

Warren was born at Vermillion, Kans., where he started his career as a printer's devil. He was a contemporary of William Allen White, famed Emporia Editor, and worked on various papers in Kansas, New Mexico and Texas. He came to San Diego in the 1920's.

Change of Location Best Relief for that Hay Fever

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Although much has been learned in recent years about the relief of hay fever, many people try to escape from the ragweed pollen during the late summer. Vacations are often planned for those weeks when the pollen count is high and a place is sought where ragweed pollen is absent or at least slight.

The northwest Pacific areas of the United States and northern California are good places. There is little ragweed pollen n southern California Arizona and New Mexico. There is little or no ragweed growing in the higher areas of the Rocky Mountains though ragweed is present in the plains to the east of the mountains and can blow in when the wind comes from that direction. However early frost in the mountains tends to shorten the season.

Southern and eastern Florida have also litte or no ragweed. A section of Maine in the northern and western part of that state is also claimed to have little ragweed.

MIDWEST AFFECTED

There is nowhere in the middle west which is entirely free of ragweed pollen during the season. Some areas, however, have short seasons and prevailing winds which tend to keep the pollen in the air at a much lower level than it is over the great plains. Among such areas are northern Minnesota and the upper peninsula of Michigan, northern Wisconsin and central Canada.

Several national parks are good spots for hay fever sufferers. Among them are Crater Lake, Bryce Canyon, Glacier, Grand Canyon, Grand Teton, Kings Canyon, Mount McKinley, Mount Rainer, Olympic, Grand Lake, Sequoia, Yellowstone, Yosemite, Zion and Sun Valley.

With the combined use of injections, the hay fever relieving drugs and residence in a region with a low ragweed pollen count even the most sensitive should be able to pass through the season without too much trouble.

ANSWER: Without knowing the cause of the peritonitis it is impossible to answer this question. What germ is responsible? How did it start? How long has it existed? What are the symptoms? These questions and many others must be answered before it would be possible to give a reply.

Here's What a Vacation Mate Should Be Like, But—

There's nothing like a vacation trip to make a woman wish her husband were different, and probably vice versa.

But here's the perfect vacation companion from a woman's point of view.

He'd be content to do the driving in easy stages, instead of setting a certain number of miles to be covered each day, even though it means setting the alarm for 5 o'clock each morning.

He'd read his own maps, instead of piling them in Mama's lap and expecting her to keep him informed and blaming her for any wrong turns.

He'd get hungry at the same time she does—or at least be gracious about stopping to eat when she begins to notice "nice, clean-looking" restaurants.

He'd prefer a lodge with meals served, to roughing it in a more picturesque spot where Mama has to go right on cooking three meals a day.

Would Be Cheerful About Stopping

He wouldn't act like a martyr when Mama wants to stop long enough in a city they're passing through to call up an old school mate, or give a telephoned message to the friend of a friend.

He'd let the family take their time sight-seeing.

He wouldn't drive so fast that his favorite back-seat driver is exhausted by nightfall from putting on non-existent brakes all day.

He'd eat in places with "atmosphere" so Mama will have something to tell the girls when she gets back home, instead of choosing restaurants by one criterion only—whether or not there's a convenient parking place.

He wouldn't lose his temper every time he packs and unpacks the trunk car.

But if your husband doesn't meet all of those requirements don't let it bother you too much.

No other woman's husband does, either.

SOCIETY NEWS

Couple Wed in Franklin Grove

Now at home at 112 North Coolidge Avenue, Normal, Ill., are the new Mr. and Mrs. Maynard S. Branch who were wed June 19th at 4 p.m. in the Franklin Grove Methodist church. Betty Ann McDivitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bettin of Franklin Grove and her groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Branch of Monroe City, Mo., will enjoy their wedding trip in September when they have a month's motor trip to California.

Rev. C. B. Reeves of Franklin Park officiated at the afternoon ceremony amid a setting of garden flowers and lighted tapers in the windows. Lighted tapers were on the altar and the couple knelt on a white satin pillow.

The bride entered the church on a white carpet with her eldest brother, William L. McDivitt of Fleming, Colo., who gave her in marriage. She was wearing a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a short train, satin covered buttons down the front, tight fitting bodice, a net yoke, long sleeves and a drop shoulder effect. Her veil was held in place with a lace half hat edged with a wreath of white delphinium. She carried a cascade of white roses and trailing ivy.

Nuptial Music

Mrs. Luther Durkes, organist, and Mrs. Clark Wasson, vocalist, provided the nuptial music.

Mrs. Darlene Bucher of Chicago, close friend of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a blue net over blue satin gown and a cornet of pink carnations in her hair. She also carried pink carnations.

Sharon Cramer, of Freeport, the bride's cousin, who was junior bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of yellow organdy over satin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with blue delphinium and wore a headband of the same blue flowers.

Sandra Zoeller, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zoeller of Franklin Grove, looked sweet in a pastel green floor length gown. She wore a white wreath in her hair and carried a white basket of yellow and white daisies. Ring bearer, Billy McDivitt, nephew of the bride, was dressed in white pants and dark coat and carried the ring on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Harold Hess, of Monroe City, Mo, was best man and ushers were George Holley and John McDivitt of Franklin Grove.

Reception in Parlors

Nearly 125 attended the reception following the ceremony in the church parlors. Pink and white were the colors used in the reception decorations and the lace covered table was centered with a low glass bowl filled with pink roses and daisies. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink roses and white wedding bells. Those serving the punch were Natalie Sheller of Bloomington; Arlene Ives of Aurora and Doris Brucker of Dixon. Mrs. William L. McDivitt of Colorado cut the cake and Janice Watson had charge of the guest book.

The bride, who attended Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington and Brokaw Hospital School of Nursing, Normal, where she graduated June 6th with a B. S. degree, is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She wore a navy blue suit trimmed in grey with navy and white accessories and a white rose corsage taken from her bridal bouquet for her going away outfit. The groom is manager of the Statistical Department of the State Farm Insurance company in Bloomington.

The bride's mother selected a white and navy print dress with pink and white accessories and the groom's mother a beige silk dress with black accessories for the wedding. Both wore pink carnation corsages.

Guests from Colorado, California, Oklahoma, Washington, D. C., Missouri, Michigan; Freeport, Aurora, Bloomington, Dixon, Sterling and Franklin Grove attended the wedding.

He left Chicago by plane last Wednesday for New York City where he spent a day before reporting at the academy.

Jury to Get Hiss' Case on Thursday

New York, July 5—(AP)—The perjury trial of Alger Hiss goes to the jury Thursday afternoon, Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman announced today.

A recess was taken at 11:05 a. m. until tomorrow morning when Judge Kaufman said here would be "a very few minutes of testimony."

The judge said that following testimony tomorrow the defense would have the rest of the day for its summation. The government will sum up its case Thursday morning. Then the jury will have lunch in the custody of the U. S. Marshall.

After lunch Thursday Judge Kaufman said he would deliver his charge to the jury and that body would begin its deliberations. The prosecution rested its case at 9:29 a. m. (CST).

Loss Of Uranium Is Denied By AEC

Washington, July 5—(AP) — The atomic Energy commission, commenting on a story in the Grand Junction, Colo., Sentinel, said last night that "uranium has not disappeared" from western Colorado plants.

(The sentinel said 30 tons of uranium oxides have "disappeared into thin air" in the past two years. It said the loss occurred through the use of extraction processes which engineers told the Sentinel they consider outmoded.)

"Reported 'losses' of uranium in extraction processes in plants on the Colorado plateau are hypothetical," an AEC statement said

"They are based solely on assumptions and calculations. Uranium has not disappeared."

In New York, Ward Miller, vice president of the Vanadium corporation of America, said he had not heard of any uranium oxide loss such as reported by the newspaper.

There will be a regular meeting of the National Guard unit here Wednesday night.

Members are all urged to attend, as it will be pay day.

Miners Back in Pits, But No Contract

Pittsburgh, July 5—(AP)—Almost all of the nation's 480,000 hard and soft coal miners returned to the pits today without a contract at the end of their annual paid vacation.

The work resumption started the first of an indefinite number of three day work weeks expressly ordered by John L. Lewis for miners east of the Mississippi. The short-week order scrapped the United Mine Workers' long-standing "no contract, no work" policy.

Several thousand UMA members west of the Mississippi will remain on a five-day week.

The new plan will remain in effect while negotiations between the union and the operators continue on a new contract to replace the pact that expired last Thursday.

At least 7,000 of the 55,000 western Pennsylvania soft coal diggers were forced to remain idle. Several producers were unable to resume production this week because—anticipating a mine shutdown under the old UMW policy—they had given superintendents and other supervisory personnel vacations.

In other instances, repair work undertaken during the vacation period has not been completed. Many of the miners will be able to work again by next Monday.

Dixonites Have Real Fine 4th

a car, which would mean the crowd totaled 13,085 or somewhat in excess of this as many children came by bike and some adults via water.

The automobile count as well as the crowd sets a new record for the park.

Every nook and corner of the park was utilized.

Parking of cars took much of it, picknickers gobbled up their rightful share, there were small games of all types, and of course, the inevitable onlooker who came just because someone brought him along.

Legion Handles Traffic

The automobile traffic at the park was handled in fine style by the Dixon post of the American Legion. The Legionnaires were on hand bright and early and did yoeman service. They were assisted by county law enforcement officials. No serious accidents were reported, and few lost children.

Early last night the crowds started to wend their way toward the Galena Ave., bridge for the excellent display of fireworks. By the time the first 'warning' bomb was set off one hour prior to the display, the bridge and both the north and south banks of the river were lined with spectators.

Foreworks Draw 8,000

It was estimated by police officials that nearly 8,000 persons witnessed the foreworks display which was preceded by a parade of boats lighted with red flares. It was a picturesque setting, with the flares reflected in the waters of the Rock river.

After the 'oh's' and 'ah's' had subsided with the American flag in fireworks and the thunderous burst of rockets, the crowd made its way home. Automobile traffic across the Galena Ave., bridge was shut off early, and at the conclusion of the program the crowd dispersed rapidly. Under the direction of Acting Chief Frank Tyne the traffic was speeded up, and with a minimum of trouble, normalcy was restored.

Dixon went to bed early last night, weary but happy.

Capt. Fried, Noted 'Sea Dog' Is Dead

Yonkers, N. Y., July 5—(AP)—Capt. George Fried, 71, master of some of America's biggest ocean liners, died yesterday.

Captain of the old Leviathan, American, George Washington, and President Roosevelt, Fried was a central figure in many thrilling sea rescues.

Fried became supervising inspector of the U. S. Bureau of Navigation and steamboat inspection after his retirement in 1934.

Salem Man, 90 Years Ago, Started It All!

Salem, Ill., July 5—(AP)—"Just look what I started," said 90 year old E. L. Duncan as he surveyed the crowd of direct descendants celebrating his birthday

There were 48 of 159 descendants on hand for his July 4th birthday. Attending were three of eight living children, 10 grand children, 24 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

OLD STRIKES

Strikes are not a modern idea. The first known strike in history was the strike of secession of the plebians against the patricians in ancient Rome, about 494 B. C.

Poloan Featured With Symphony, Sunday

Polo, Ill.—"Music" will be the order of the day here next Sunday, July 10th. On that day, all Polo, or most of it, will participate in its first annual 'Music Festival.'

It will be a full day of music beginning with a half hour serenade by the Lutheran chimes early Sunday morning and ending with a community sing and the Rockford Symphony orchestra in a concert "under the stars" in the evening.

Every church in Polo will dedicate its entire service of worship to the theme of music. In the early afternoon hours roving troubadours will stroll through the streets serenading on street corners. An old-time German band will be on hand preceding the symphony concert in the evening.

A special feature of the day will be serenades by local groups of Polo's 'shut-ins.'

The big feature of the evening will be the presentation with the Rockford Symphony orchestra of Iris Cashman, Polo farm wife, as guest soloist. Mrs. Cashman is a lyric soprano.

Entire proceeds from the concert will go toward the building of a band shell for Polo.

The hot and humid weather sent millions to lakes and rivers to cool off and the 240 drownings over the three-day period was a record. The previous high was 192 last year.

Michigan's hundreds of lakes lured thousands and 25 persons drowned in the state. Twenty-one drowned in New York, including at least seven in New York City when a sudden storm swamped hundreds of small boats offshore.

No Fireworks Deaths

The survey showed no fatalities from fireworks.

The death toll was the heaviest in Texas—47 killed in violent accidents. Thirty-two were killed in traffic mishaps; eight drowned and seven lost their lives in other accidents of a violent nature. New York's 45 fatalities ranked second and Michigan's toll was was 42.

No violent deaths were reported in Kansas, Nevada or the District of Columbia. Only one fatality was reported in Cook county (Chicago) Illinois, which was believed a record.

Four In One Family Drown On A Picnic

Palmer, Va., July 5—(AP)—A Fourth of July swimming party turned into tragedy yesterday when two brothers, their sister and a mother drowned.

The four persons, all of Richmond, Va., drowned in the Rappahannock river near here while visiting at a summer home of a friend.

The dead were Mary Haley Frayser, 17; her brothers, Frank, 16, and John Carson, 13; and Mrs. William Alfred Pennell, about 40.

The victims, in the water about 100 feet from the bank of the river, apparently stepped into a deep hole or were swept under by the current, onlookers said.

Dixonite Nabbed by Farmer as a Gasoline Thief

Ivan Arthur Toland, 16, 608 First Ave., was picked up by a deputy sheriff at 7:15 p. m. last night, at the farm home of Clarence Whaley, about two miles from the Rainbow Inn, after an alleged attempt to steal gasoline at the Whaley farm.

Toland is held at Lee county jail.

According to authorities Toland was alone in his car. He was driving on what is known as the "middle road," and passed the Whaley farm. Toland, it is reported kept driving back and forth in front of the Whaley farm house. Some of the Whaley children noted this and informed their father. Whaley advised the children to stay in the house.

Then Toland drove into a neighbor's driveway, gave an excuse for so doing, and again drove back to the Whaley farm.

Entering the driveway at the Whaley farm, Toland picked up a pail, filled it with water and poured the water into the radiator. He then backed up to the gasoline tank on the Whaley farm and started to fill the gasoline tank of his car. Clarence Whaley then came out with a rifle, prevented Toland from taking the gasoline and then called the sheriff's office.

THOUSANDS SEE WATER SPECTACLE AT LOWELL

Dixon-Tiger Clash Booked for Tonight

Barring an earthquake, sunspots, or heatstroke, Dixon's Dukes should have a baseball victory ere nightfall tonight.

They're playing Princeton and the good old Tiger has never failed a conference mate in distress. For in all North Central conference baseball competition in the past two years, the Tigers are batting 1.000 for the basement championship. They've not won a conference game!

So the Dukes, who are currently giving the Tigers a run for cellar honors, can, if they survive all this heat, ring the bell with their first win of the season tonight on Reynolds field. And if you're interested in witnessing this auspicious event, the first ball is, according to conference rules, expected to be thrown at 6 p. m.

The Dukes have two losses, to DeKalb and Ottawa, and a couple of unfinished games they'll decide sometime during the remaining days of summer.

There's other business, perhaps more important business, on deck for other loop members. Hall Township with three victories and no defeats will meet Sterling now leading the conference with four wins, at Sterling. Hall, with its Joe Pienta expected to hurl, will be the favorites, although Sterling is determined to gain its third conference athletic championship of 1948-49.

Rock Falls, who were annihilated by the Golden Warriors last Friday, is in for another shellacking at Ottawa tonight.

Plum Hollow Is Scene of Much Fourth Activity

More than 235 golfers swarmed over the Plum Hollow Country club during the three-day Fourth of July weekend despite the intense heat, according to Frank Daschbach Jr., club manager.

At the regular Sunday morning breakfast matches, 21 men competed in the blind bogey tourney, although 40 ate "bacon and"—preferring to cool off under the trees, rather than brave the fairways. Winners in the blind bogey Sunday were Bob Jacobson, Charles Hamill, Ed Harris, Sheldon Maeves and George Wiedman.

Sunday afternoon and evening was "Family Day" and 32 men and women competed in a mixed foursome. Fireworks for the kiddies topped off the events of the day at nightfall.

Yesterday's Fourth of July breakfast blind bogey drew 35 players, of which only 18 braved old Sol's rays. Winners were Bill Short, Joe Saari, Russ Byers, Sheldon Maeves and George Wiedman.

Monday night, July 11, the club will resume its regular Monday night "supper matches" for men and on Friday, July 17th, the Plum Hollow boys will go over to Brinton avenue to take on the Country club aggregation in an intra-city match.

Members of the Rock River Trail and Horseman's Association are planning an extra-special event for Thursday night.

Members are asked to place their reservations with Gale Dickey by Wednesday night. You may call 505.

PHILLIES TRY-OUT CAMP

Elgin, Ill., July 5—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies will open baseball try-out camp tomorrow in Elgin which will continue Thursday and Friday, George Earnshaw, camp director, announced today.

FIVE GRAND SLAMMERS

New York — (AP) — When the New York Giants brought Wesley Westrum back to the majors they did it with an eye on his hitting. After being optioned to their Jersey City farm team, Westrum pounded out five home runs with the bases loaded. In 66 games with the Giants in 1948 he hit only .160. But that was last year.

Homer in 10th Beats V. F. W. 3-2 on Sunday

Harry Woodyatt, who, while pitching for the Dixon V.F.W., a week ago, saw victory go glimmering in the thirteenth inning, returned to Dixon on the Tampico All-Star roster Sunday and personally saw to it that the extra-inning jinx would not include him the second week in a row.

Woodyatt's home run in the tenth inning with a mate on base was enough to give Tampico a 3-2 victory over the V.F.W. and their newly-imported hurler, Vernon (Bullet) Kirk. The largest crowd of the season, attracted by the prospects of a great hurling duel, witnessed the spectacle on the Airport diamond.

Kirk, who has three no-hitters in the Freeport city league, whiffed 15 to Woodyatt's 12. Kirk granted nine hits, one less than Woodyatt, but six of them were for extra bases—including the aforementioned four-baser by Woodyatt.

In the opener, the Lakeshire-Marty nine of the Dixon softball league put the screws on the Rock Falls Legion 10-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Joe Curlee. Lakeshire gave him errorless support.

Navy Trims Army in Country Club Holiday Match

The Navy triumphed over the Army in golf maneuvers conducted over the Dixon Country course yesterday.

Admiral Lyle Prescott of the Navy said that the fleet can do it again. General Harold Green of the Army is unconvinced so a series of such feature matches is being booked for the coming weeks, Harry Heaney, club pro, said today.

The score yesterday was Navy 33 Army 21.

Navy Veteran Hank Henry led the "fleet" with a 70. Army's Green and Frank Lessner posted 71s. Bill Witzleb and Eddie O'Malley of the Navy had 73s to tie Army's Floyd Smith and Ned Sack.

In a two-ball mixed foursome play, a feature of the afternoon of the holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Swendsen posted a net 35, for first, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Plowman were second and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith finished in third position.

COUGHLIN'S CORNER

By CLIFF

LOU BEVILACQUA (Bevil), of Nelson, is strictly an "okay" boy with minor league fans. It has just been announced that Lou, pitcher-outfielder for Daytona Beach in the Florida State league, has been named to BOTH positions by fans in all-star balloting carried out in eight cities.

* * * *

BEVIL BECAME the first man in league history to win two playing positions. The fans voted him the top right-handed pitcher and also named him to one of the three outfield posts.

Just to complete the thing, and this is perhaps the most prized possession of all, Bevil won the Ratliff trophy for the league's most popular player.

THE PREDICTED top-notch game at Polo Sunday between the Maroons and the Rochelle Hubs didn't come off. The Hubs just didn't show up and left a park full of disappointed fans.

AT SUBLETTE MONDAY, the Sublette-West Brooklyn game was called off because of the heat. And it's got to be hot when it keeps those two rivals apart.

* * * *

HOWEVER, ON SUNDAY, the unbeaten Sublette boys took the measure of Peru Young-Snyder, 7-1, with Lowell (Bud) Mertz doing mound duty for Manager Kay Glazer's nine. Young-Snyder is reputed to be one of the "hot" young clubs of the Illinois Valley circuit. At least they've only been beaten once in the league.

* * * *

MERTZ, WHO hurls for Dixon Reynolds in league competition, was engaged when Bert Carruthers elected to twirl for his home town team, the Ladd Merchants. Carruthers, incidentally, trimmed the Rockford Blackhawks with a little help from the Merchant mound ace, Gene Sebben.

TICKETS FOR THE super-duper Play Day at Plum Hollow will go on sale this Thursday. You can get ducats from Dean McCrystal, chairman of the ticket committee, or at the club. The date, don't forget, is Thursday, July 14.

LET'S RISE AND give a hand to Manager Chuck Christiansen of the Dixon Merchants. That club has dropped 10 in a row (no wins) but are sticking together in the face of all that adversity. We don't condone all that losing (who does?) but can you name a team that'd be out there plugging away after losing 10 straight?

COUNTY, STATE and local police were called to quell a small riot at Sterling last evening during a game between the Mexican All-Stars of Sterling and a Moline club. None was injured seriously although the fight reportedly continued through the evening hours at another spot in town.

Dixon Merchants Drop Two; Walnut, 5-4; Clinton, Ia., 10-4

The Dixon Merchants absorbed defeats 9 and 10 over the holiday weekend, dropping to Walnut at Walnut Sunday, 5-4 in the ninth, and 10-4 to the classy Clinton, Ia., Industries at Reynolds Field Monday.

At Walnut, the Merchants rallied in the ninth to tie the count 4-4 only to see their chance for their first victory go glimmering in the final half of the inning when Larson singled home the winning tally.

* * *

Dave Moore started for the Merchants against Walnut and led until the seventh when Walnut went ahead 3-2 on two runs. Roe Grover relieved him in the eighth, was tapped for one run in that inning before granting the winning run in the ninth. Dixon outhit the winners 8 to 5.

At Reynolds field Monday, Pitcher Mason of Industries got his huge frame behind two of Grover's serves to boost them out of the park. That accounted for four runs. He set down the locals with six hits to emerge as the hero of the contest played in sweltering temperatures.

* * *

Grover wasn't a bad pitcher. He was rapped for 11 hits but four Dixon errors figured heavily in his downfall. Grover also lifted one over the left field barrier for a homer. He also had a single to lead the Dixon hitters.

Racing Action at Lowell Park Monday

Owners of water craft in the Dixon area vied for honors at the annual Fourth of July races at Lowell park yesterday before a huge throng of holiday makers. Here is a sample of some of the thrilling scenes presented for the enjoyment of the spectators during the afternoon race events.

Amboy Hands Morrison Its First Defeat

Amboy—(Special) — Manager Joe McGrath's Amboy Merchants punctured the Morrison Vets' victory string here Sunday, 12-1, and then dropped a return engagement at Morrison Monday 1-0 as the Vets scored in the ninth.

Jack McGrath tossed a three-hitter Sunday before a large home crowd to win easily. Amboy did not get going until the fifth when they set upon Olson for four runs. They maintained their barrage in the sixth, seventh and eighth to hand the Morrison club its first defeat. McGrath whiffed 15 to hang up a nifty win.

* * *

At Morrison Monday, "Bud" Kerley of the Merchants fell victim in the ninth in a classic struggle. With two out and a man on first Houseman, Vet leftfielder whacked a double to score the winning run. It broke up a pitching duel between Kerley and Morrison's "Hoot" Gibson and Olson, who relieved Gibson. Kerley granted four hits while the Merchants were held to three. Amboy, however, had 12 men left on base.

Yanks, Dodgers Lead Pack on Fourth of July; Should They Begin Building Extra Stands?

(By The Associated Press)

The Fourth of July has come and gone with the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers still showing the way in the major league pennant races.

Tradition says the night of the Fourth is the telltale date. If you lead then, you can start building new stands for the World Series. Actually it's right only about 50 per cent of the time.

Both Cleveland and the Boston Braves discovered that the charm worked last season. Of course, the Indians had to go a day overtime to whip the Boston Red Sox in a tie playoff to get their share of a record series cut.

The return of Joe DiMaggio to the Yankee lineup after he missed the first 65 games because of a heel injury continues to spark the league leaders. Since Jolting Joe came back they have won seven of eight, including five straight over the respected Boston Red Sox.

Despite the surge of the Philadelphia A's and the menacing moves by the Cleveland Indians, the Yanks can feel fairly safe with a 4½ game lead over the A's.

The Yankees' Vic Raschi went all the way to win the opener from Boston, 3-2, for his 13th victory of the season at the expense of Walt Masterson. In the second Joe DiMaggio's homer pulled the Yanks up into a tie in the fifth and Billy Johnson's single with the bases loaded in the seventh provided the winning 6-4 margin for Reliefer Willard Marshall over Mel Parnell. The second game was delayed by rain and finally was called because of darkness after seven and a half innings.

The Athletics kept pace by trimming Washington 9-7 and 8-0 with little Bobby Schantz, Mack's 5 foot 7 inch southpaw, pitching a 10-hit shutout in the second.

* * *

Cleveland, moving strong solidified its third-place position, seven games behind New York, by beating Detroit twice, 3-2 and 7-3. Bobby Feller squeaked through in the first game with relief help from Satchel Paige after he was lifted for a pinch hitter.

* * *

Homers by Dick Kokos and Gerry Priddy gave the St. Louis Browns a 4-2 victory and an even break with the Chicago White Sox who rapped the Brownie staff for 15 hits, including two doubles by George Metkovich in the 12-5 first game.

* * *

Branch Rickey collected twice at Brooklyn as the Dodgers won a morning and afternoon game from Philadelphia, boosting their lead over St. Louis to two full games.

Preacher Roe just missed a shutout in the 7-1 morning game when Willie Jones homered with two out in the ninth. Don Newcombe needed help from Jack Banta in the eighth inning to save an 8-4 decision in the second.

* * *

Max Lanier's return from "exile" in Mexico and Canada was not a success but the Cardinals rallied after Max was knocked out in the third inning to take Chicago, 9-4. Fred Martin, like Lanier another re-instated Mexican "jumper", was the official winner.

Bob Chipman stopped the Red Birds in the second game with an efficient shutout, 5-0, scattering four hits.

* * *

For a change, Billy Meyer got some pitching from his Pittsburgh staff and the Pirates copped two from Cincinnati, 2-1 and 1-0 to move ahead of the Reds into sixth place. Cliff Chambers allowed only two hits in the first game.

Bill Werle yielded seven singles en route to his shutout victory.

The Boston Braves moved into a third place tie with the Phillies, 5½ games behind the Dodgers, by splitting two with the New York Giants. Tommy Holmes' second homer of the day launched a four-run rally in the last of the ninth that pulled out the second game for the Braves, 8-7. The Giants banged out 17 hits in the 11-4 first game.

Eisenbise, of Freeport, Wins in Boat Events

More than 10,000 holiday-seekers, an all-time record, jammed Lowell park yesterday to witness stock motorboat races staged by the Dixon chamber of commerce and the Sportsman's Boat club. Another record throng lined the river banks at Dixon to watch the after-dark parade of boats and the concluding fireworks.

In the stock motorboat events, an annual Fourth of July event at Lowell, David Eisenbise, Freeport, an ex-Dixonite, copped the major portion of the $150 in cash awards.

* * *

He won all heats of the first three events and in the free-for-all he placed second in each of the two heats. This final event was won by Ted Heinzeroth, Rockford.

Here were the race results:

First heat—Won by Ted Heinzeroth, Rockford; Eisenbise, Freeport, second; Smith, Sterling, third.

Second heat—Won by Heinzeroth, Rockford; Eisenbise, second; Smith, Sterling, third.

* * *

Only two mishaps marred the water events. Johnny Harbeck, of LaSalle county, overturned his boat in one event, and Bill Magnifici, of Dixon, had his craft swamped in the second heat of the first race.

* * *

In addition to the boat races, there were surf board exhibitions by Raymond Trowbridge and Betty Lamken, Chicago; Don Horn and Harlan Schbacher, Ashton, and Joe and Joan Franklin, of Dixon.

* * *

The dusk-time Venetian parade on Dixon's water front was staged under the direction of Delbert Long. It was a colorful event presented by the Sportsman's Boat club members, now in their first year of organization.

With The Telegraph Cameraman Over The Fourth of July

Here's a glimpse of the shoreline at Lowell Park yesterday as the crowds indulged in swimming, boating and just resting on the shore. More than 13,000 visited the park Sunday and Monday.

Dean (left) and Dennis Considine (right), two of the Plum Hollow Country club's youngest golfers, awaited their turn at No. 1 tee Sunday, which was "Family Day" at the club's Fourth of July week-end. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Considine, 521 Ottawa Ave.

Motor boating was a popular sport with hundreds of visitors at Lowell Park Sunday and Monday. In the above picture, one of the speed boats is coming in for a landing on the dock.

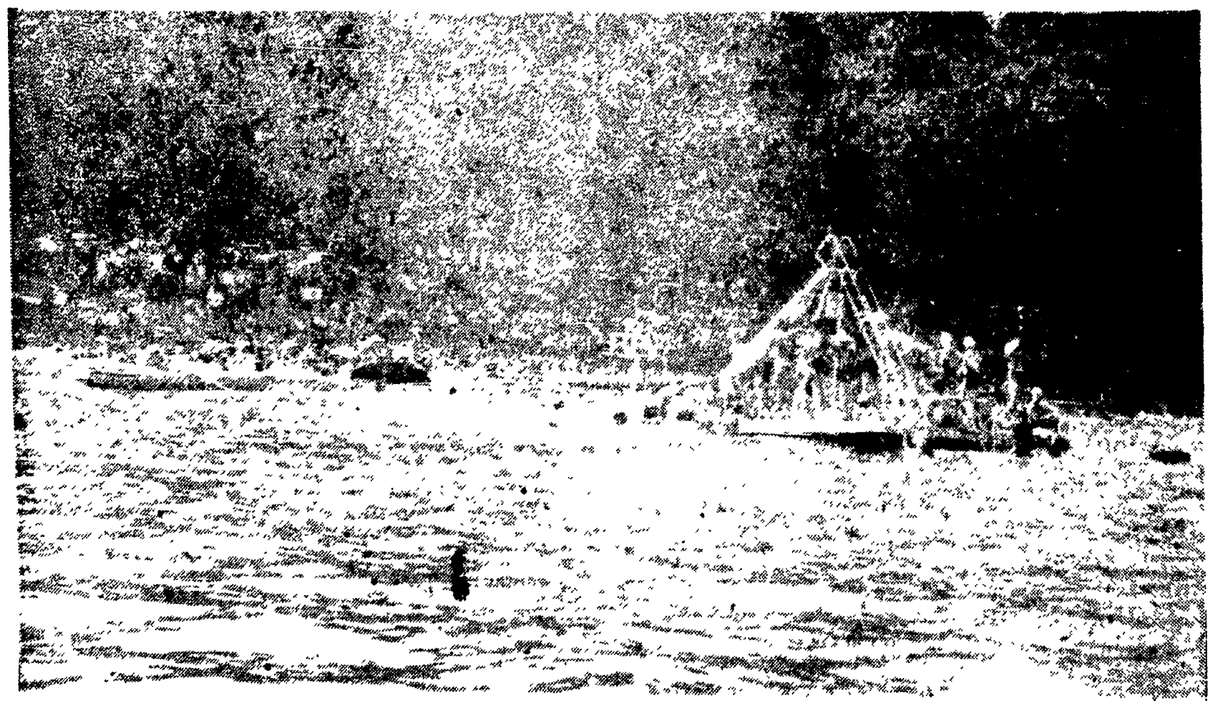

Shown above is a small segment of the thousands who watched from the shore during the boat race at Lowell Park Sunday. Thousands of others lined the course up and down the length of the park.

Water skiing was demonstrated in skillful fashion at the boat races for Monday. One of the more youthful skiers is shown here performing in championship style.

Patients at the Dixon State hospital were not forgotten on Independence Day. Shown here is a part of the carnival atmosphere set up for the patients where many games were played. Refreshments were also served.

Here's a general view of the diving platform and "chute the chutes" at Lowell Park where hundreds went in swimming Sunday and Monday. The diving platform and 'chutes' were in continuous use.

Here's another view of the teen-aged water skier as she sped over the Lowell park course, giving the spectators one of the greatest thrills of day yesterday. Skiing is quite an art on water, even more hazardous than on snow.

Women Needed in Overseas Posts; Salaries Are O. K.

Women with experience in group recreational work are urgently needed to staff army service clubs in the Pacific theatre. With the new "younger army" more eighteen and nineteen year old soldiers are now serving overseas, and constructive entertainment for leisure hours has become more vital to the army than ever before Service clubs have been established in overseas theatres to give GI's a place to gather after working hours. Activities include parties, handicraft work, planned entertainment, soldier shows, song fests, and games.

College trained women experienced in group recreational work direct these activities. Women between the ages of 24 and 40 with a practical knowledge of arts and crafts, music, dramatics or group recreation may contribute a great service and at the same time gain valuable experience in service clubs in Japan, Guam, Korea and Okinawa. Salaries range from $2724 to $2974 annually.

In addition to base salary, employees are paid a foreign differential which varies from one theatre to another, and, in most areas, housing is provided. Transportation is provided to and from the overseas commands.

Librarians are paid from $2498 to $3727 per year. Age limits are 21 to 40. Although a college degree is required for the higher paying positions, practical library experience may be substituted for two years of college for beginning openings.

Qualified women who are interested in these positions should address inquiries to Mrs. Jeanne C. Nelson, representative, Overseas Affairs Branch, 1660 East Hyde Park Blvd., Chicago 15, Illinois.

'Cannon' Explodes; Man Critically Hurt

Chicago, July 5.—(AP)—William Boulton, 42, and his children loaded up the homemade cannon yesterday which his grandfather built 25 years ago to salute each Independence Day since.

They tamped the two-foot length of steel pipe almost full of black powder, stuffed in a wadding of paper and fired three volleys.

The cannon's half-inch thick barrel exploded with the third round. One jagged piece of steel spun 150 feet through the air and smashed into the head of an unidentified pedestrian.

None of the family was hurt, but attendants at the hospital where the critically injured pedestrian was taken said he was not expected to live.

Shabbona Has A Kidnaping Scare

Shabbona Ill.—What at first looked like a Fourth of July kidnaping, "fizzled" out here early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Beatrice Overright, Shabbona Grove, came into Shabbona at 7:30 Saturday night and cashed a $23 check. When she did not return home, her husband reported her as "missing."

Sunday morning at 4:30 a. m. Mrs. Overright telephoned from Dewitt, Ia., saying that she was taken to Iowa "against her will." Her husband picked her up and on his return to Shabbona Grove advised state police to "cancel the search" and forget about the incident.

DOCK STRIKE SILENCES HAWAII'S 'ALOHA'

Idle Liner Symbolizes A $13,500,000 Dispute

NEITHER LEIS nor tourists break the strike-enforced quiet of the luxury ship Lurline, tied up at her berth next to Honolulu's famed Aloha Tower (extreme left), symbol of welcome.

By NEA Service

Honolulu — (NEA) — In the shadow of the Aloha Tower, Hawaii's symbol of welcome and good-will, the luxury tourist ship Lurline lies idle at her berth at Pier 11.

On her starboard boat deck, usually trod by lei-draped tourists, Quartermaster Paddy Quain steps out into the sun with a bucket to wring out his dungarees without fear of reprimand. The Lurline has become the white-hulled symbol of a strike-bound Hawaii in which there are few tourists to welcome and very little good-will these days.

In the pier building alongside the the headquarters of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (CIO), whose stevedores have been on strike since May 1. The waterfront dispute up to July 1 had cost the island more than $13,500,000.

* * *

It has halted shipping, slowed business, created shortages and unemployment, cut tourist traffic to a trickle, and raised the cry of Communism. While a fact-finding board is working to find a means of settlement, there is no indication that either labor or business will accept the board's recommendations.

IDLE SHIPS are full of food strikers won't unload. These bags of onions spoiled and had to be taken ashore and burned.

And after watching labor and business slug it out for two months, Hawaii's half-million people face a new threat: 20,000 sugar cane plantation workers, all ILWU members, have voted to join the waterfront strike. There is additional fear that no matter how the dockside dispute turns out, a sugar workers' strike will follow anyway.

The sugar industry already has felt the strike. Sugar, ready for shipment, is choking piers and warehouses, and the California and Hawaii Sugar Refining Corp. has switched to the Philippines to supply its huge refinery at Crockett, Calif.

The shipping industry has lost more than $3,000,000. Eleven freighters, which, like the Lurline, are strikebound in island ports, have 65,000 tons of cargo tied up in their holds. Three hundred sacks of onions and five tons of potatoes rotted aboard one ship and had tobe burned.

Meanwhile, sacks of potatoes and onions, each separately addressed, have been transported to the islands from San Francisco on Navy ships as parcel post; each sack requires $5.83 in stamps. Air cargo is up about 90 per cent.

The tourist industry, which has ambitions of becoming the territory's top money maker, has had a $2,000,000 setback. The prolonged strike has made vacationers hesitate to come to the islands even by air.

* * *

Shopkeepers and wholesalers figure they have lost about $7,000,000. Their efforts to keep going have in some cases, put a big dent in the good-will traditionally shed by the Aloha Tower.

When the shortage of dairy feed became acute, for instance, Richard K. Kimball led a group of dairy farmers through the picket lines to unload 6000 bags of soybean meal. It helped feed the cows, but it cost Kimball, a Honolulu hotel owner and dairyman, his chance for the Democratic nomination to the board of harbor commissioners.

In the picket lines, island women with brooms and anti-union signs march beside the striking dockworkers.

In Iolani palace, where Hawaiian kings held court, the emergency fact-finding board listens to the argument of union and employers. The longshoremen want 32 cents an hour more than their present $1.40, or else arbitration; the employers offer 14 cents an hour more, and settlement by negotiation rather than arbitration.

Outside, where the broom brigade marches, the strains of Aloha have been silenced by indignant cries from housewives. The mainland—and Washington—has only half-heard their pleas for relief, they declare, and Harry Bridges and his West Coast strike strategists have worn out their welcome.

HOUSEWIFE VS. LABOR finds this broom-wielding woman marching beside ILWU official Henry Schmidt with conflicting sentiments.

LABOR VS. LABOR finds Longshoreman Joseph Maldonado, ousted from union when he formed right-wing group, marching with women.

Tokyo Rose Trial Opens in 'Frisco

San Francisco, July 5—(AP)—With her life at stake, the legendary Tokyo Rose of the Pacific war goes to trial in federal court today. The charge is treason.

Iva Ikuko Toguri D'Aquino, born in California on the fourth of July 33 years ago, could be condemned to death if convicted. The minimum would be five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

This much is acknowledged: She was one of six English-speaking Japanese on radio Tokyo's wartime propaganda broadcasts to war-weary American servicemen in the Pacific.

The government charges this involved eight separate acts of treason, "intentional and traitorous."

The defense will contend that in making the broadcasts, Iva Toguri acted under compulsion.

The defense also will contend that through her marriage, in 1945, to Felipe D'Aquino, she became a citizen of Portugal and as such is not liable to treason charges in the United States. D'Aquino, one-fourth Portuguese and three-fourths Japanese, came to the United States for the trial, but did not visit his wife yesterday.

Seventy one witnesses have been subpoened by the government and 15 to 20 by the defense, which will also introduce more than a score of depositions taken in Japan.

Mrs. D'Aquino celebrated her 33rd birthday and the fourth of July eating roast pork along with other prisoners at the San Francisco county jail.

She was visited only by her father, Jun Toguri, who came here from his home in Chicago to be with her during her trail.

State GOP Plans Chicago Meeting to Name Chairman

Springfield, Ill., July 5—(AP)—The Republican state central committee will meet in Chicago July 18 for a second attempt to choose a successor to Paul C. Rosenquist of Rockford as chairman.

The committee tried yesterday to pick a man to take Rosenquist's place. When members couldn't agree, they persuaded Rosenquist to defer the effective date of his resignation until the Chicago meeting.

The committee adopted a resolution praising the work of Republican legislators in the recent general assembly.

Their "forthright and determined" action, the resolution said, "prevented the Democratic administration of (Governor) Adlai E. Stevenson from saddling millions and millions of additional dollars taxation on the backs of the already overburdened taxpayers."

The committee criticized Stevenson for "arbitrarily" adjourning the legislature early yesterday morning. The governor acted after the Republican senate and the Democratic house squabbled over a quitting date. The house wanted to quit for good yesterday, while the senate preferred adjourning to July 18.

County Corn Crop Threatened by 'Borers'

Farmers in the northern part of Lee county are due to take a licking this year on their corn crops, according to indications.

And it can be laid to the corn-borer. At least that is what it looks like at the present time. A check over the Fourth of July weekend in the northern part of the county, revealed corn 5 to 6 feet in height in some fields — several weeks ahead of normal growth—but the 'borers' have gotten in their 'licks'.

Corn-borers Aplenty!

A representative of The Evening Telegraph visited with E. R. Buck, Franklin Grove, for sometime Sunday and inspected his fields. Corn-borers were evident in abundance. Stalks cut at random showed that the corn-borers have really infested the area in alarming numbers and much damage has already been done.

Mr. Buck said Sunday:

"The June hatch of corn-borers was the largest we have ever had to cope with in this area. Where twelve or more egg clusters can be found on an average of 50 stalks, it is advisable to use on insecticide."

Mr. Buck said that if a farmer is not certain what egg massses look like, he stated that they resemble a small fish scale, and can be found on the under side of the leaf. The young borers will be found in the whirl and behind the leaf sheaths. Stalks picked at random in the Buck corn fields showed an alarming amount of borers.

E. R. Buck, Franklin Grove, inspects some corn stalks in one of his corn fields and finds that corn-borers are prevalent in astonishing numbers. A neighbor watches him inspect a stalk.

Buy DDT Heavily

Farmers in the area are buying heavily of DDT for spraying. They are also buying heavily in the Amboy area. One dealer in Amboy reported today that he has sold enough DDT in the past several days to spray 9,000 acres of corn.

According to farm authorities, insecticide applications should be made from 10 to 12 days after the first egg masses can be found hatching in the fields. It is advised to use one and one-half pounds of DDT per acre.

The threat of grasshoppers is also evident in some area, unless immediate steps for control are taken. They can best be controlled while very young by the use of 'Chlordane' sprays in fence rows and along roadsides where they hatch out, before they emerge into the fields.

Teachers Oppose Loyalty Oaths at National Confab

Boston, July 5—(AP)—Representatives of approximately 350,000 of the nation's school teachers adopted a resolution last night opposing loyalty oaths for teachers.

The unanimous action of 800 delegates—members of the department of classroom teachers—was taken at a meeting held in conjunction with the 87th annual convention of the National Education association.

The resolution said the department "deplores the growing practice of enacting discriminatory legislation that singles out teachers."

Speaking for the resolution, Miss Hilda Maehling of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the classroom group, said:

"If we are going to have loyalty oaths, then everybody should have them."

Hits Unpreparedness

In an address at the 25th anniversary graduation exercises of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, Bernard M. Baruch charged that President Truman's failure to come up with an industrial war mobilization plan is a "needless invitation to disaster." With Baruch (center) prior to opening of the exercises in the Interior Dept. auditorium are Maj. Gen. Arthur W. Vanaman, USAF, commandant of the school, left, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, who also spoke. —NEA Telephoto.

Married at Hospital

Judith Hears Sentence

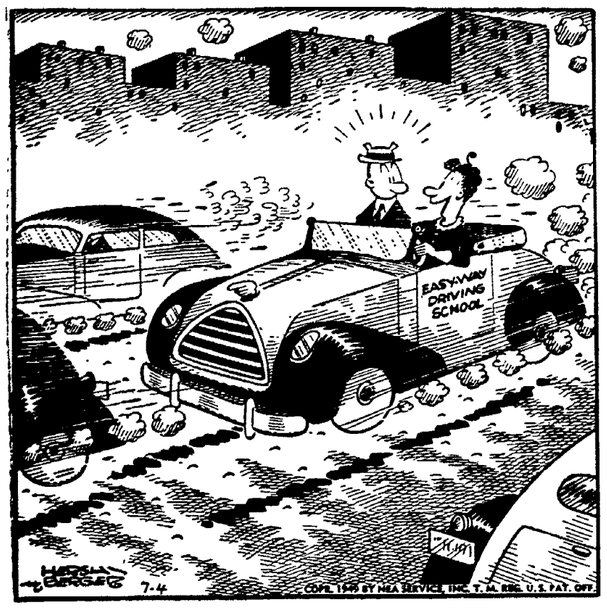

In custody of U. S. marshall, tiny Judy Coplon is led from federal court to U. S. marshal's office after being sentenced to 40 months to 10 years for stealing government secrets for Russia. Judge Reeves fixed her bond at $20,000 which is double the bond under which she has been held in this case in Washington.

Army Makes an "Error"

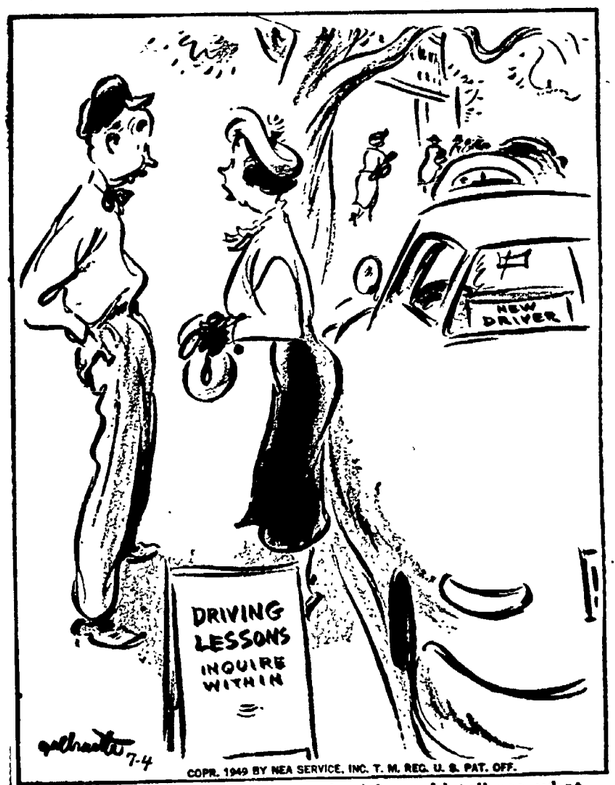

"What's this, the New Army? A swimming pool now being constructed at Fort Harrison Air Base is segregated down the middle by a 12 foot fence. The fence separates the enlisted men and their families near Indianapolis. In the background can be seen the swimming pool for children which is also divided. After the picture appeared in the Indianapolis Times fort officials said that the fence was put up wrong." They also said that it would be torn down immediately. (NEA Telephoto)

Funny Business By Harshberger

Side Glances By Galbraith

"Before I start these lessons, I wish you'd tell me what kind of accidents I can have that are not my fault!"

Carnival By Dick Turner

Steel, Union to Continue Their Talks

Pittsburgh, July 5—(AP)—"Big Steel" and CIO-United Steelworkers resume contract negotiations tomorrow, working against a 10-day deadline for a possible strike.

Bargaining sessions, now snagged on the U. S. Steel Corp. refusal to discuss pensions, may set one of the major skirmishes in labor's struggle for fourth round wage increases.

The 850,000-member union demands a general, but unspecified, wage increase and company-financed insurance and pension programs.

U. S. Steel refused the pension demand and promised full answer to all demands when negotiators meet again here.

Opinions Differ

The present contract has a year to run but was reopened this year on "rates of pay" and insurance provisions. The union says "rates of pay" includes pensions; the corporation says they do not. The pact permits a strike if no contract agreement is reached by July 16.

Several observers have pointed to a possibility that the Truman administration might take a hand in delaying or averting a strke by proclaiming a national emergency. That would hold off a walkout 80 days and call for appointment of a fact-finding board.

Other sources have speculated on whether President Philip Murray of the CIO and the union would carry the pension issue before the NLRB by filing a complaint against U. S. Steel. The union previously won a NLRB tight on the pension issue with Inland Steel Co.

But the grey, scholarly Murray has steadily refused to sign the non-Communist affidavit required for unions if they wish to take advantage of NLRB machinery. He has declined as a matter of personal principle. The industry has wondered if he would change his mind about the affidavit too, so by his executive committee.

Other steel negotiations are underway with other companies. But those talks are mainly marking time, waiting for the big steel agreement to light the path. Involved in the U. S. Steel discussions are 170,000 employes of six subsidiary companies. The union holds 835 other contracts, covering about 710,000 workers.

Steelworkers, now earning an average basic hourly wage of about $1.65 have had three raises since V-J day. They got a 19-cent hourly boost in 1946, a 15-cent hike in 1947 and an average 13-cent increase last year. In the past, the CIO-USW's wage settlements have gone far toward setting the national pay raise pattern.

Pact Before U. S. Senate

Washington, July 5—(AP)—The Atlantic pact went before the senate today with all signs pointing to swift approval.

But storm warnings over the related European arms program brought talk of a compromise under which only France—in addition to Greece and Turkey—would get military supplies from this country.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who is against the proposed $1,450,000,000 arms outlay, told a reporter he might be willing to provide military aid to France but thinks the other security treaty signers don't need it badly now.

Delay Arms Plea

The state department apparently intends to delay sending its arms request to congress until the senate completes action on the security treaty.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee opens debate on the pact today.

Connally will be followed to the firing line tomorrow by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) also a backer of the treaty. The pact would link 12 nations into a mutual defense system designed to offset Communist expansion into western Europe and the north Atlantic areas.

Opposition Weak?

Apparently less than a dozen senators oppose ratification, which requires two-thirds approval of those voting.

The arms program already is under fire from economy advocates. Senator Byrd (D-Va) said he is going to oppose it, because he doesn't believe this country can afford to put that amount of money into military supplies on top of the economic aid it is giving Europe.
